
At level 1 the relationship r joins entities in A and B, so it is in neither child's scope (boundary loss). At level 0 it is in scope of P, but P's input must now carry everything in A and B through the same 8,000-token budget, and if it overflows, P is written from the summaries of A and B instead of its own content.